One of the best Duets of all time, Marvin Gaye & Tammi Terrell's "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" is just the inspiration we need to live our best life and conquer anything that stands in our way. This two-story townhome functions without friction, restoring your energy for those hills that you're climbing. Featuring a two-car garage, mudroom (with a bench) and an open floor plan upgraded Kitchen, Dining Room and Family Room, the first floor lives and breathes with connection in mind. Upstairs is where you'll find your Primary suite, where there is nothing keeping you from getting to that shower, babe. If you're ever in trouble, your walk-in closets will be there for you in a double. Speaking of double - there are two additional bedrooms, a bathroom and a laundry room that just makes sense. This entire house has been upgraded with the Diamonds and Pearl designer-curated interior package. Wherever you are, I'll be there when you want me. Someway, somehow.
